

Website Plan

My website aims to celebrate and share the rich musical culture of Mexico, focusing on its diverse guitar genres that reflect the country's vibrant and unique heritage. The website will be an engaging and immersive experience, as it is designed with colorful visuals inspired by the lively and heartwarming themes of the Coco movie, bringing out the beauty of Mexico's traditions and its deep connection to music. It inspires the appreciation of curiosity, inviting visitors to explore the stories, rhythms, and melodies that make Mexican music a treasure for all times.

Through my website, I hope to provide others with the opportunity to learn about these rich musical styles and their vibrant history. It's my way of celebrating and preserving this incredible heritage while inviting others to discover and appreciate its beauty.
