Carlo Castro
1-BSCS-A

Insights for my Website

My ultimate goal is to create a responsive website which is a staple of every good website since it translates to portability across multiple devices and screen ratio, I would also like to add a bit of interactive UI to keep the website visually pleasing and interesting. The theme of my website might be about things related to photography and some other interesting things, though it might change since I am still thinking what to put.